KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? The value of the product and its dividends or coupons (if any) may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:	Refer to "RISK FACTORS" of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on the risk of the product.
Market and Credit Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Fixed Income Securities and Downgrade Risk – Fixed income securities are subject to credit risk and price volatility. Fixed income securities are also exposed to the risk of being downgraded, which can cause a significant drop in the value of the Portfolio. The Sub-Investment Managers may or may not be able to dispose of the debt instruments that are being downgraded.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lower Rated Securities Risk – The Portfolio may invest in lower rated or unrated (i.e. non-investment grade or high yield) securities, which are more likely to react to developments affecting market and credit risk than are more highly rated securities. The Portfolio may therefore find it more difficult to sell such high yield securities or may be able to sell these securities only at prices lower than if such securities were widely traded. The Portfolio may experience difficulty in valuing certain securities at certain times. • Credit Risk – The Portfolio may invest in corporate fixed income securities. Corporate issuers of fixed income securities may fail to meet their interest repayments, or repay debt, which may result in the Portfolio suffering temporary or permanent losses. • Euro, Eurozone and EU Stability Risk – In light of ongoing concerns on the sovereign debt risk of certain member states within the Eurozone, the Portfolio’s investments in the Euro region may be subject to higher volatility, liquidity, currency and default risks. Any adverse events, such as credit downgrade of a sovereign or exit of EU member states from the Eurozone, may have a negative impact on the value of the Portfolio. In addition, on 31 January 2020, the UK formally left the EU. Notwithstanding the avoidance of a “no-deal Brexit”, the UK’s exit from the EU will likely lead to exacerbated periods of volatility and economic uncertainty in both the UK and in wider European markets in the short to mid-term. In particular, the decision made in the British referendum may lead to a call for similar referendums in other European jurisdictions, which may cause increased economic volatility in the European and global markets. This uncertainty may have an adverse effect on the economy generally and on the ability of the Portfolio to execute its strategies and receive attractive returns. Leaving the EU may also result in significant changes to law and regulation in the UK. It is not currently possible to assess the effect of these changes on the Portfolio or the position of the shareholders. These and similar consequences may adversely affect the value of the shares and the Portfolio’s performance. • Currency Risk – The base currency value of the investment of the Portfolio designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations in respect of the relevant currencies. The currency exchange rates of Emerging Market Countries tend to be more volatile than those of more developed countries. As the base currency of the Portfolio is not in Singapore dollars, Singapore investors may be exposed to an additional currency risk. • Currency Hedging Risk – Currency hedging instruments may involve the risk of a default by a counterparty.
Liquidity Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Portfolio is not listed in Singapore and you can redeem only on Dealing Days – There is no secondary market for the Portfolio. Your right to redeem may be suspended or deferred under certain circumstances.
Product-Specific Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Risks relating to the use of FDI – FDIs may be subject to various types of risks, including market risk, liquidity risk, counterparty credit risk, legal risk and operations risk. In addition, FDIs can involve significant economic leverage and may, in some cases, involve high risk of significant loss. The use of FDIs may lead to risk of loss of capital or increase the volatility of a Portfolio’s NAV. • Risks relating to dividend payment – Dividends paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor’s original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment which may result in an immediate decrease in the NAV of the relevant shares. An investment in high yield securities does not necessarily imply high dividend distribution for all share classes.
